Human Relations Week Stirs Thoughts Of Classes and Individuals On Campus

The problems of Human Relations will be stabbed at from all angles this week on the campus as faculty members are asking Dr. O. W. Warrington to bring his messages to the classroom as well as in platform addresses, dorm discussions, personal confabs, and coffee chats.

Similar to the programs planned for the Religious Emphasis Week the leaders and advisers of the YWCA have designed the week's program to fit the needs of all the students.

Born in Cuddapah, India, Dr. Warrington comes to the United States to study and after graduating from the University of Wisconsin, he did graduate work at Boston University. He has done advanced work in philosophy and theology in Oxford, England. He is a teacher, lecturer, philosopher, a student and reader in the fields of literature, the fine arts, and also an author and poet.

Students serving on the steering committee include: Mary Blackmon, Washington; Carolyn Hadden, Augusta; Doe Durrance, Claxton; Joan Radford, Camak; Ellen Jones, Lyons; Shirley Bryndt, Fitzgerald; Jane Rider, Washington; Ann Graham, Warner Robins; Miriam McCullough, Woodbine; Gertrude Cox, Milledgeville; Jane Bailey, Augusta; Joanne Hamby, Augusta; Alice Ann McKinley, Harlem; Huanne Burnett, Covington; Miriam Dunson, Commerce; Delores Wheeler, LaFayette; Olive Boline, YWCA executive secretary; and Pat Wall, Savannah.

The week will officially be opened with an address in Chapel on Jan. 21 and each evening there will be a platform address and dorm discussions. The speaker will be a platform address and lectures and personal conferences with the students. There will be coffee hours in the Y Apartment after the platform addresses in the evenings.

Interested laymen in Milledgeville, and nearby towns are invited to take advantage of these programs and join the G S C W students in their consideration of this all-important phase of today's problems.

Pi Gamma Mu Elects 10 Students, Two Staff

The local chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science society has announced its new members, and the speaker for this month's meeting.

Carolyn Anglin and Kitty Marie Smith, Milledgeville, Lavinia Whitley, Claxton, Jimmie Sue Bennett, Mannassas, Eloise Blackburn, Sandersville, Ann Johnson, Augusta, Mary Lu Richey, Douglas, Dorothy Mayfield, Macon, are the students who were elected to membership for the year. Misses Olive Boline and Isabel Rogers, religious activities staff were also elected to membership.

Dr. George Beiswanger, head of fine arts, will address the group on the subject, "Toward a Theory of Ethical Theories."

SENIOR P.E. MAJORS TO OBSERVE SCHOOLS

The Senior Physical Education Majors, along with Dr. Manchester, will leave January 29th, on a field trip to observe the Physical Education Program in the public schools in Columbus, Georgia. At the same time they will observe the Recreational Program of the parks of that city. They return to campus on January 31st. Senior

A Cappella Names Soloists, Begins 1951 Concerts

The Milledgeville College A-Cappella Choir began its 1951 season with a concert in the Sandersville Baptist Church on Sunday evening. Soloists for the season have been announced by Max Noah, director of the choir and head of the music department.

Soprano soloist for the year are Jean Starr, Claxton, Peggy Jo Mitchell, Perry, Jo and Harriett Casteel, Lavonia. Contralto soloists are Annette Johnson, Siloam, and Betty Le Roy, Tignall.

The choir will include tours of Georgia, concerts in and around Milledgeville and a spring tour to Chicago in their years brochure. They will sing at the Lawrenceville Baptist Church on Sun. Feb. 4.

Paper Sponsors Dream Man

GMC Holds Similar Femme Selection

Dreamboat contest coming up! Again this year the GSCW Dream Man will be selected to be displayed as Jessie's pride and hero. But this year, there's a new twist—you'll have to pay for him. And the more he costs — well, surely the better he'll be.

A penny a vote will be the price — and you're urged to stuff the ballot box as often as you can afford for the man you'd most like to get lost with in the new Skunk Hollow. The money will be used for the March-of-Dimes fund, and the lucky man will be announced at the Roosevelt Ball—in the proper style of the woman's-college-loves-one-man idea. Voting must, unfortunately, be on pictures alone—as circumstances forbid our having them here in flesh and muscle at the present time.

Pictures will be collected in the dorms Tuesday. The first elimination will be held Wednesday in the foyer to the student union. Thursday, the second elimination, and Friday, the final elimination to find the one man that Jessie herself has chosen among all the rest.

Soap-box politicking and corner bribing are all permitted — even encouraged — because the more money the fund provides the bigger the March of Dimes fund will grow. So, gals, put your man in the contest and then pitch in there and fight for him.

There will also be a similar contest at GMC to select their Dream Femme fatale.

Physical Education Majors include: Lucy Bonnell, Barbara Webber, Kathryn Willis, Kathryn Phillips, Dot Ward, Camille Burns, Mary Quinn Harvey, Willie Henderson, Louise Brown, and Dot Pinkston.

DR. JAMES PAUL KENNEDY
Director, Georgia State College for Women

Ohio Choir To Repeat Concert

A concert in Milledgeville has been included in the southern tour of the nationally known A Cappella Choir of Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio.

Conducted by Dr. James Paul Kennedy, 54 students will sing sacred and secular numbers in Russell Auditorium Georgia State College for Women Saturday, Feb. 10, at 8 p.m.

Last fall the National Broadcasting Co. chose the Bowling Green Choir to open its series of coast-to-coast broadcasts of Christmas choral music.

One NBC executive commented this month that the choir is the best college choral group he has heard in recent months.

The Bowling Green singers recently made records and appeared on television.

Dr. Kennedy is a composer, arranger, organist, concert pianist, voice and piano teacher and player of the campus carillon bells.

At Bowling Green he is the director of choral activities and a professor of music. Each year he takes the choir and the men's and women's glee clubs on extensive concert tours. He is in great demand as a guest conductor.

Dr. Kennedy taught at Hiram College before joining the Bowling Green faculty in 1936.

The National Composers Clinic has given its highest recognition to a sonata and a symphonic poem entered by Dr. Kennedy.

Both he and his wife were Methodist "preachers' kids." The Kennedys have four children and collect antique furniture.

The professor is a graduate of William Penn College, Northwestern University and the University of Iowa. He also studied at the University of California and Matthey Planoforte School in London England.

Westminster Group To Attend Meeting

The annual Westminster Fellowship Conference will meet on the campus of Mercer University Feb. 2-4. Registration cards for the meeting should be in Macon by Jan. 25.

The main speaker of the meeting will be Dr. J. M. Goddard, board of secondary schools and colleges of Decatur, and Rev. M. C. McIver, student minister at the University of Alabama.

Phi U Elects Six Outstanding H E Girls

Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honor fraternity for home economics majors has recently initiated six new members into its local chapter.

New Members are Jean Bridges, Macon; Betty Nunn, Commerce; Letty Pryor, Leslie; Barbara Pearson; Tifton; Mary Phelps Greensboro; and Mary Yarbrough, Edison.

'Hog Calling' To Be Feature of Roosevelt Ball

Was your roommate born in a barn? If so, why not enter her in the hog calling contest to be held, Jan. 27 at the Roosevelt Ball? If your roommate is the lucky winner — now brace yourself — she will be crowned "Miss Iron Lungs of 1951." Two representatives from each dormitory will be chosen to participate in the contest.

The "Dream Girl" contest conducted at GMC, and the "Dream Boat" contest of GSCW will culminate also at the Roosevelt Ball, which marks the end of the "March of Dimes."

Handbills will be distributed during the middle of the week to all Jessies and Jimmies. These handbills will serve to show which class from G S C W and which company from GMC has the largest attendance at the Ball. There is a detachable coupon on the handbills, which is to be filled in for class attendance, and dropped into a box at the Ball. Also on the coupon are two statements to be checked, one to the effect that this contribution was a real personal sacrifice, and the other to the effect that the contribution was made from loose change. There is no significance attached to these two statements, however all contributors are urged to check them.

As has been the custom, there will be no corsages. Jessies are urged to suggest that their escorts donate their corsage money, or at least a part of it, to the "March of Dimes" instead. Contributions will be welcomed, not only from the Guys, but from the Dolls, as well. A big floor show is promised, and music will be provided by the GMC Kaydets and Massey's Revolving Revelers.

Other features to listen for are various radio skits which will be presented over WMVG during the week. Also, nightly on Moonlight Melodies, a record will be played and dedicated to polio victims, and all who support the "March of Dimes."

Harriett May Awarded Frosh Chemistry Prize

Harriett May, Pembroke, freshman chemistry major, was winner of the first term chemistry award for the highest average in Chemistry during fall 1950.

She was presented the "Handbook of Chemistry" with full details engraved in gold on the cover during her Chemistry 102 class last week, by Dr. J. F. Vincent, professor of physics and chemistry.

Harriett May is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus D. May, Pembroke. She is a member of the A Cappella choir.

Symphony To Give Second Concert Wednesday At 8:30

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra will make its second appearance on this campus Wednesday evening at 8:30 p.m. The 75 piece orchestra will meet the students majoring in music, members of the Milledgeville A Cappella Choir and the Colonnade staff at a reception in the Alumnae Guest House following the concert.

The Symphony, under the direction of Reginald Stewart will perform as a part of the annual concert series.

In its thirty-fifth year, and ninth season under Mr. Stewart, this orchestra is generally recognized as one of the country's major symphonic organizations. During recent musical seasons it has played throughout the United States and Canada. It has given successful concerts in New York City, at Smith College, Duke University, Florida State University, Washington and Lee College and in many other eastern and southern communities.

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra was the first American symphony orchestra to be supported by municipal funds. Part of its financing still is appropriated by the City of Baltimore, but for eight years, Baltimore citizens have contributed to its support.

Reginald Stewart, Scottish-born conductor who recently became an American, has achieved international distinction. He has been guest conductor of such orchestras as the New York Philharmonic, the NBC, the BBC, the Detroit, the Chicago, and many others.

The concertmaster and assistant conductor Jan Tomasov, distinguished young violinist who has been associated for the past six years with the National Symphony Orchestra as concertmaster. He appeared with the Paris Sym. when he was only 22 and has been prominent in music festivals in S.A., including his native Argentina.

Dr. Herlin Speaks On Finland In Assembly

Dr. Helsinki H. Herlin, elevator manufacturer of Helsinki, Finland, and one of Rotary International's outstanding personalities spoke to the student body and the Milledgeville Rotarians on Friday, Jan. 19.

Mr. Herlin is a leading industrialist and citizen from a country famous for its integrity, its ancient rocks and its languages that is so old as to be of unknown origin.

Mr. Herlin is in the United States in his capacity as one of the directors of Rotary International for 1950-51. He is in the South because of his friendship with a Birmingham Rotarian with whom he has worked closely, and was in Milledgeville because of a dinner acquaintance recently in England with Miss Anne Wells daughter of Dr. Guy H. Wells.

The Helsinki industrialist is a former Rotary Governor of Finland and will make many talks to American groups while he is in this country. He talked to an education group at Georgia Tech on Friday, Jan. 19.

Dr. Fullerton Leads Wesley Discussions

Friendship, Courtship, and Marriage will be discussed by Rev. Claud Fullerton during a course sponsored by Wesley Foundation January 22-24 at 4:15 in the Methodist Church Basement.

Wesley Foundation also sponsors a Book Review each Saturday at 4 o'clock. These reviews are led by members of the GSCW faculty. The past two reviews were conducted by Dr. W. T. Wynn, who talked on "Why Some Literature Lives," and Miss Halie Smith, who reviewed "Stories of the Famous Hymns We Love."

The regular Wesley Foundation schedule includes:
Sunday School 10:00 A.M.
Supper, Recreation, and Forum 5:30 to 7:30 P.M.
Vespers 6:00 to 6:15 Wednesday, P.M.
Book Review 4:00 to 5:00 Saturday P.M.

Dance your dates and deposit your dimes at the Roosevelt Ball Saturday night.

Listen to W. M. V. G. Saturday 10:30 a.m. and each evening at 10:15 p.m. the Dance of Dimes.

Play Night Plans

Announcement comes from the Winter Quarter Play Nite Managers that beginning Saturday night at 7:30 in the gym there will start a campus-wide Bridge faculty members are urged to sign up on the sheet which will be posted in the S.U. the week previous to the beginning night. You are asked to sign up in pairs, which will play together in the tournament. Come on out, gals, and show'm you're a "Card Shark."

"We're having a party, and the people are nice." That in a nutshell has been the spirit of play-nite this quarter. The number of people participating has been large, but for all the fun that's being had, it seems there must be a lot of people who don't know all about what's going on.

The first Saturday night, for the most part, was relinquished to the sophomore and faculty volleyball enthusiasts, who performed in an excellent exhibition game. After a battle to the finish, the sophs bowed to the mighty faculty in a trying loss. Dancing, ping-pong, tumbling, darts, and general chatter filled the rest of the evening.

On January 13, basketball seemed to take the center of attention. Everybody had a thrill packed time enjoying the first basketball outing of the year.

Last Saturday night, January 20, spring hit G.S.C.W. and also the spirit of the occasion. Dancing, basketball, ping-pong, deck tennis, darts, and cards were played in the gym while downstairs swimming took place and tennis was being played out on the lighted courts.

Plans are in the making for both a bridge and ping-pong tournament in the near future, so sharpen your wits and your strength and come join the fun every Saturday night.

Folk Club To Present Mexican Fiesta

Folk Club is continuing practice for the Mexican Fiesta which they will present at a future date. Some thirty members come out every Tuesday afternoon to learn the dances symbolic of our neighbors to the south.

At the January 18th meeting, it was decided that Folk Club would furnish breakfast for the Austrian dancers who will be on campus January 22 and 23.

Officers of Folk Club are president, Jo Ann Suter, vice-president, Katherine Willis, secretary, Dot Dendy, and dance chairman, Willie Henderson.
